NEWS FROM LINDA GUEST:

Here in the mission field of France we see so little interest in God that at times it is hard to write to you. As you have heard me say before, France is a race of endurance and I simply praise God for any little glimmer of hope. Here lately there have been more glimpses and I am anxious to share the news!

Lost and Found Friend

I've been trying over the past 2 years to reconnect with a woman I met the first year in France. She is British and married to a Frenchman. They live in the same town but her email and phone number changed and the number is not listed. The last I saw her was when they adopted a precious little girl and I got to hold their new baby. Well a couple weeks ago I was driving about 4 hours south with some friends. We missed our exit and had to stop at some random gas station. I took the opportunity to use the ladies room. While at the sink I saw a woman out of the corner of my eye that looked vaguely familiar and I said "Denise?" Sure enough it was her and her now 5 year old daughter. Don't you just love how God arranges these intersections in our lives!! Anyway, we are now in touch and I am hoping she will join me for a Bible study and that she will open her heart to discovering God.

Please pray that God will grant me opportunities to speak about His gift of salvation with my French friends.
